PLI Discover PLUS Functionality: Discover PLUS App

If you visited the PLI booth at AALL this year, you may have seen the beta version of our Discover PLUS app for the iPhone and iPad. Many thanks to everyone who stopped by and took the app for a test drive. We truly value your feedback! Stay tuned for the release of our app in the App Store this fall! Are you interested in beta testing the app? If so, contact us at mailto:libraryrelations@pli.edu?t=KGB3_8AEM8&utm_source=8AEM8&utm_medium=EMAIL&utm_campaign=KGB3.

PLI Discover PLUS Search Tips: Research Topic Guides

Did you know we are making our Research Topic Guides available on the PLI Library Relations YouTube channel? Check out our first installment, PLI Discover PLUS – Research Topic Cybersecurity, to view a sample terms and connectors search to help locate materials on cybersecurity.

Scenario: Following the online security breaches at Target and Anthem, a researcher is tasked with drafting a memo on how a client might adopt the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) Cybersecurity Framework.

Watch as we search All Content for "NIST" within the same sentence as the word "cyber" by using the root expander, and find a Course Handbook chapter with practical steps for implementing the NIST Cybersecurity Framework.

Letter from PLI's Library Relations Manager Christina Davis

It was great meeting so many of you at AALL last month! Thank you to everyone who attended the Librarian Advisory Breakfast we hosted and who visited our booth. We hope you walked away with good swag and more knowledge about the Discover PLUS platform. To celebrate our global reach of over 80,000 subscribers in 34 countries, we raffled off a $1,000 Orbitz gift card. Nicole Dyszlewski, Research/Access Services Librarian at Roger Williams University School of Law was our lucky winner! Click here to read an interview with Nicole, and stay posted for an update on her travels on our blog.

As the conference was held in Philadelphia, a place rich with American history, the theme of our Librarian Advisory Breakfast this year was our history and the archive project. Over a breakfast of eggs and hash browns, Alexa Robertson and Katie Hut presented on the progress of our archive project and provided a demonstration of the Discover PLUS platform with an example of how you can use and find the archival content. Currently, we have Course Handbooks dating back to 2000 and are adding titles every week. We encourage you to email mailto:libraryrelations@pli.edu?t=KGB3_8AEM8&utm_source=8AEM8&utm_medium=EMAIL&utm_campaign=KGB3 to share a time when you needed an older PLI title or tell us why you value the archives.

Continuing with the history theme, we raffled off an Ancestry.com membership so that one of our attendees could explore their family's history. Nancy Henry, Lead, Technical Services at Dentons won the raffle. Congratulations, Nancy!

Looking forward to seeing you all again in Chicago for AALL 2016!
