   Q 1.3 How is maritime law different from other law in the United States? ................................................................. 6
   Q 1.4 What is the status of maritime law in the United States? ............... 7
      Q 1.4.1 Can maritime law extend to non-maritime activities? .......... 7
      Q 1.4.2 What is the relationship between maritime law and state law in the United States? ............................................. 8

Chapter 2  Finding Maritime Law ................................................................. 11
   Q 2.1 What are the sources of U.S. maritime law? .................................... 12
   Q 2.2 What areas of the law are associated with each source? ............... 12
   Q 2.3 What is the basis of judge-made maritime law? ............................. 13
   Q 2.4 What are the major maritime legislative acts? ............................... 13
   Q 2.5 What is the impact of international conventions on maritime law? 14
Q 2.6 What are the primary agencies that help shape maritime law?.....15
Q 2.7 Where can international conventions and related guidance be found?..........................................................................................16
Q 2.8 How uniform is international maritime law?.................................17
Q 2.9 How uniform is U.S. maritime law?.............................................18

Chapter 3 What Constitutes a Maritime Contract?.................................21
Q 3.1 What difference does it make if a contract is a maritime contract?..............................................................................................22
Q 3.2 Is there a general rule for when a contract is a maritime contract?..............................................................................................23
Q 3.3 Which contracts are usually considered maritime contracts?........23
Q 3.4 Which contracts are usually not considered maritime contracts?....23
Q 3.5 What are “mixed contracts”?..........................................................24
Q 3.6 How are “mixed contracts” treated?................................................24
Q 3.7 What formalities are required for maritime contracts?..................25
Q 3.8 When is a maritime contract formed?............................................25
Q 3.9 Does a written maritime contract need to be in a single document?..............................................................................................26
Q 3.10 What are some other features of maritime contract law?.............26
Q 3.11 How are maritime contracts enforced?.......................................27
Q 3.12 What is the “Saving to Suitors” clause?.........................................27

PART II FOR THE VESSEL OWNER

Chapter 4 Vessel Ownership and Operations .......................................31
Q 4.1 How are vessels owned?.................................................................32
Q 4.2 What is the difference between ownership and operation?.............32
Q 4.3 Can someone other than the title holder(s) be considered the “owner” of the vessel?.................................................................32
Q 4.4 What is a “bareboat” charter party or charter?...............................33
Q 4.5 What other forms of charters are used?.........................................33
Q 4.6 Do vessel owners or operators subcontract some of their functions?.................................................................................................34
Q 4.7 How effective are vessel owner, operator and manager structures?.................................................................................................34

Q 9.24 What is the Maritime Labour Convention? ...............................................................94
Q 9.25 What is the substance of the Maritime Labour Convention? ......................................95
Q 9.26 What vessel certification does the Maritime Labour Convention require? ................95
Q 9.27 Do vessels registered in countries that have not ratified the Convention have to comply with the Convention? ....................................................95
Q 9.28 Which countries have ratified the Maritime Labour Convention? .............................96
Q 9.29 Has the United States adopted the Maritime Labour Convention? ............................96
Chapter 10  Insuring a Vessel

Q 10.1  What risks does a vessel face that insurance might cover?  102
Q 10.2  What law applies to marine insurance?  103
Q 10.3  How are marine insurance contracts interpreted?  103
Q 10.4  What does it mean that marine insurance is usually “pay to be paid”?  103
Q 10.5  What is uberrimae fidei?  104
Q 10.6  Which entities supply marine insurance?  104
Q 10.7  What is the International Group of P&I Clubs?  105
Q 10.8  What are the main types of marine insurance?  106
Q 10.9  What warranties does a vessel owner usually give to the insurance provider?  107
Q 10.10  Does an insured need to give notice of a claim?  108
Q 10.11  Is it necessary that the insured have an “insurable interest”?  108
Q 10.12  What losses does protection and indemnity insurance cover?  108
Q 10.13  What losses does hull and machinery insurance cover?  108
Q 10.14  What is a “constructive total loss”?  109
Q 10.15  What are “Institute Clauses” or “Institute Warranties”?  109
Q 10.16  Do hull and machinery policies cover vessel collisions?  109
Q 10.17  Is the insurer liable to pay for wreck removal in the event of a serious accident?  110
Q 10.18  Do marine insurance policies contain subrogation rights?  110
Q 10.19  Do marine insurance policies cover risks arising from war or violence?  110
Q 10.20  How do vessel owners cope with war- or terrorism-related risks?  111
Q 10.21  Does the U.S. Government provide war risk insurance to vessel owners?  111
Q 10.22  Which marine insurance policies cover pollution-related risks?  111
Q 10.23  What other types of marine insurance are available?  112

Chapter 11  Sources of Government Regulation of Vessels

Q 11.1  Which countries regulate vessels?  116
Q 11.2  What is the relationship between flag-state and port-state vessel regulation?  116
Q 11.3  What are the limits of U.S. port-state regulation with respect to foreign vessels?  116
Q 11.4  Can the U.S. Government regulate the foreign vessel cruise industry serving the U.S. market?  117
Q 11.5 What is the source of standards applicable to vessels? .............117
Q 11.6 What is the “IMO”? .................................................................118
Q 11.7 What are the principal international maritime conventions? .....118
Q 11.8 How are international conventions implemented in the United States? ...............................................................120
Q 11.9 How are international maritime conventions enforced in practice? ...................................................................120
Q 11.10 Which federal agencies are involved in vessel inspections? ......120

Chapter 12 Environmental Regulation ..........................................125
Q 12.1 Which vessel discharges and emissions are regulated? ..........127
Q 12.2 What are the primary federal environmental laws governing vessels? .................................................................128
Q 12.3 What are the main sources of law governing oil pollution from vessels? ...........................................................128
Q 12.4 What is the rule on the discharge of oil into U.S. waters? .........129
Q 12.5 What is the U.S. legal standard of a “harmful quantity” of oil? ......129
Q 12.6 What is the relationship between OPA 90 and the Clean Water Act? ................................................................130
Q 12.7 What are the major areas covered in OPA 90? .......................130
Q 12.8 What is the relationship between OPA 90 and state laws? .........131
Q 12.9 Which other federal laws may potentially apply to oil spills? ......132
Q 12.10 What else may not be discharged into U.S. waters under the Clean Water Act? .................................................................132
Q 12.11 What is the general liability theory of OPA 90? .....................132
Q 12.12 Who is a “responsible party” for an oil spill from a vessel? ......133
Q 12.13 Does the vessel owner remain a responsible party when a vessel is demise-chartered to a third party? ..................133
Q 12.14 Is the lender/owner under a lease-finance arrangement a “responsible party”? ....................................................133
Q 12.15 Does a responsible party have to be negligent to be liable for an oil spill? ..............................................................134
Q 12.16 Is there a limit to the costs and damages payable by the responsible party to the federal government? ......................134
Q 12.17 Are the OPA 90 limits on liability subject to exceptions? ........135
Q 12.18 Is there a limit to the costs and damages payable by the responsible party to other persons? .................................136
Q 12.19 Can a responsible party be exposed to punitive damages for an oil spill? .................................................................136
Q 12.20 How does the Limitation on Liability Act work in an oil spill context? ....................................................................137
Table of Contents

Q 12.21 Does a responsible party have any defenses in the event of a spill? .......................................................... 137
Q 12.22 Do vessel owners or operators have to be able to show an ability to pay potential OPA 90 costs and damages? .... 138
Q 12.23 Could criminal sanctions apply to oil spills? ........... 138
Q 12.24 Who is responsible for undertaking removal actions? .... 138
Q 12.25 Who is responsible for coordinating a spill response? . 139
Q 12.26 What is the Oil Spill Liability Trust Fund? ................ 139
Q 12.27 How concerned should vessel owners and operators be about operational discharges of oil and oily water? .... 139
Q 12.28 What is the cause of continuing oily water discharge violations? ............................................................ 140
Q 12.29 What is the potential impact of an oily water discharge prosecution? ......................................................... 140
Q 12.30 What are the main sources of law governing ballast water discharges from vessels? ................................. 141
Q 12.31 Why is ballast water regulated? ............................. 141
Q 12.32 What are the basic requirements of the National Invasive Species Act of 1996? ........................................... 142
Q 12.33 Is high seas ballast water exchange always mandatory under NISA? ....................................................... 143
Q 12.34 What actions has the U.S. Coast Guard taken since making high seas ballast water exchange mandatory? .......... 143
Q 12.35 What does the Coast Guard’s 2012 ballast water rule require? ................................................................. 143
Q 12.36 When will vessels be required to have Coast Guard–approved ballast water management systems? ............... 144
Q 12.37 How is the Environmental Protection Agency regulating ballast water? ..................................................... 144
Q 12.38 What discharge limits does the Vessel General Permit contain? ................................................................. 145
Q 12.39 Does the Vessel General Permit apply to small commercial vessels? ......................................................... 147
Q 12.40 How well coordinated are Coast Guard and EPA ballast water enforcement regimes? ............................... 147
Q 12.41 What international requirements apply to ballast water discharges? ......................................................... 147
Q 12.42 What are the main sources of law governing air emissions from vessels? ..................................................... 148
Q 12.42.1 What certificates are vessels required to have to comply with Annex VI? ................................................. 148
Q 12.42.2 Are vessel operators required to maintain Annex VI compliance records? ............................................. 149
Q 12.42.3 Are vessels subject to inspection for Annex VI compliance? .............................................................. 149
Q 12.42.4 What should a vessel owner do when there is no compliant fuel available? ........................................ 149
Q 12.42.5 What is an “ECA”? .......................................................................................................................... 150
Q 12.42.6 Where are the MARPOL Annex VI ECAs? .......................................................................................... 150

Chapter 13 Vessel Security, Piracy and Stowaways .............................................................. 153
Q 13.1 Who is responsible for the security of the vessel? ........................................................... 154
Q 13.2 How did the events of 9/11 affect government regulation of vessels? .............................................. 154
Q 13.3 When did MTSA and ISPS go into effect? .............................................................................. 155
Q 13.4 What is the purpose of MTSA and ISPS? .............................................................................. 155
Q 13.5 What are the general requirements of MTSA? ............................................................................. 155
Q 13.6 How does ISPS relate to MTSA? ................................................................................................. 155
Q 13.7 Which vessels must have vessel security plans? ............................................................................ 156
Q 13.8 What are the basic elements of a vessel security plan? .............................................................. 156
Q 13.9 What is the consequence if a vessel arrives in port without a valid International Ship Security Certificate? .................................................................................................................. 156
Q 13.10 How did MTSA affect the ability of vessel crews to go ashore? ...................................................... 157
Q 13.11 What notice of arrival requirements apply to vessels arriving in U.S. waters? .......................... 157
Q 13.12 What is piracy? ............................................................................................................................. 157
Q 13.12.1 How prevalent is piracy around the world? ............................................................................. 158
Q 13.12.2 What does U.S. law provide with respect to piracy? .............................................................. 158
Q 13.12.3 What definition of “piracy as defined by the law of nations” have U.S. courts applied? .......... 159
Q 13.12.4 Are there any proposals to change the U.S. definition of “piracy”? ............................................. 159
